

ВІДГУКИ ІНОЗЕМНИХ УЧАСНИКІВ

The pleasure is all mine: I consider it a great privilege to be invited to your series of conferences, and I admire the professionalism, commitment and resilience of all those engaged in making this happening. Knowing the difficult circumstances under which it took place, the conference was a little “miracle” of passion and endurance.

Best regards,
Francesca RACIOPPI | Head of Office
WHO Regional Office for Europe | European Centre for Environment and Health

The pleasure was all mine to have the opportunity to listen to the presentations and to participate, but also to see all of you. As I have told today, I am impressed by Ukrainian resilience and strength. I am positive that the peace will come and that we will have the opportunity to see each other in person.

We will keep in touch.

Kind regards to you and Olena and all the colleagues, from the bottom of my heart.
Elizabet Paunovic
National Ecological Association Consultant
Former World Health Organization European Centre for Environment and Health,
Head of Office (Belgrade, Serbia)

I am honored that I had the opportunity to participate at this important yearly event, especially as you organized it this year, and for the past several years, under the war conditions. My congratulations to Professor Igor Shkrobanets, Director of the Marzeiev Institute for Public Health of the National Academy of Medical Sciences of Ukraine, Professor Olena Turos, Deputy Director for Scientific Work, you personally and the whole team of dedicated and brave professionals.

I was honoured to participate and attend the conference. Congratulations to all of you for the scientific program so interesting and differentiated, full of presentations of such a high value! I am sincerely transported, as said in the presentation, by your resilience, dignity and strength to act and manage such an important event like nothing is happening. You are a human and professional example. As said also on behalf of Prof. Guida during the conference we will be honoured to host you in presence in Salerno and I am sure we will find the opportunity for this, meet in presence and put the basis for collaborations together.

Keep in touch!
Hope the best for you!

Dr. Simona Mancini
University of Salerno (Italy) and on behalf of THERADE

Your courage, strength and will of doing your work and achieve your tasks no matter what terrible is going on around you makes you the most excellent example of human bravery and pursuing high values. Please never give up, stand up with your humanity, courage and love for the country that no barbarian evil can ever defeat.

I am very honored that you share with me all your superb qualities of women, scientists, mothers and wives. You are my heroines!

With sincere love and great respect for you
you can count on me for everything

Я хочу ще раз висловити свою вдячність Вам за надання можливості виступити з доповіддю на міжнародній конференції, що відбулася у вашому Інституті минулого тижня. Сьогодні хотів би Вам запропонувати поновлення угоди про співпрацю в галузі досліджень між Медичним університетом Доккіо та вашим Інститутом.

Бажаю Вам та Вашим колегам міцного здоров'я.

З повагою,
